Spring 2026 Fence Staining Touch-Up Notice:

We will be touching-up all the previously-stained fences in our community starting the week of April 6th, weather permitting. For those owners who have a side and/or rear yard fence that is next to a public right of way street or common area within the community, as you are aware, the Association has stained your fence in the past for the overall aesthetic benefit of all homeowners in the community. The Association would appreciate your attention in having any necessary repairs made to your fence no later than March 31st, 2026 to include replacement of missing or broken slats, reattaching any slats that have come loose, or the replacement of any bad posts, etc. Commencing in April, a qualified contractor retained by the Association will be touching-up those portions of your fence that have been stained in the past. If for any reason you do not make all necessary repairs to your fence by March 31, 2026, the contractor retained by the Association providing the staining of the fences will provide a quote to the Association for the necessary repairs, and upon written approval by the Association will make those repairs, with the associated costs to be billed back to each respective owner.

The Covenant Corner

Spring has arrived, now is the time to start thinking about "spring cleaning" for all lawn and landscape tasks. April is the best time of year to start clearing debris, removing dead branches from trees and shrubs, begin mowing, and any General Maintenance. Spring is also a good time to check that your sprinklers are in good working order before summer, along with raking, aeration, lawn fertilization, and weed control.

Please take a moment to check the Community Covenants, Guidelines, and any Resolutions for the Landscape requirements.

As a reminder, General routine upkeep and weekly maintenance such as bed weeding (the definition of a weed is: a plant held to have no value, especially one growing plentifully and detrimentally in a garden, lawn or bed area), fertilizing, regular mowing, pruning, trimming, and a review of your water management program, etc. The Association would appreciate your attention in taking a look at your yard and having any necessary routine maintenance completed.

Shredding Event Scheduled:

The Stroh Ranch shredding event will be Saturday, May 30th, 2026 from 9:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m., (rain or shine). Location noted below.

Architectural Answers

With Spring upon us, let's talk about landscaping. With current weather patterns, it seems like this could be a hot one and conserving water and water restriction may be a real possibility. If you are wondering if xeriscaping is allowed, the answer is YES! There is even pre-approved landscaping option available for your convenience on the community website www.strohranchhoa.com.

Please understand that all changes to the current landscaping and/or the installation of new landscaping does require approval, prior to work commencing. For additional details regarding landscaping requirements, please refer to the community guidelines, also available on the community website provided above.

We look forward to working with you on your future projects!

Application Review Procedure of the Architectural Committee (AC)

Our AC has established a process for the receipt, review and response of all design review requests. The AC will schedule and convene meetings as necessary to review homeowner applications submitted to the management company, PCS. There are two deadlines per month for submission, the first and third Fridays of the month at noon. The Modifications Committee then tries to get their responses to me by the third Friday of the month or first Friday of the following month, respectively.

Please note that while the AC tries to adhere to the noted turnaround time, per the Guidelines they have 45 days to review your request. Once a response has been provided, a response letter may be mailed to the address on file and will also be available by logging into the CINCWeb Axis homeowner portal.

Please email designreview@pcms.net with any questions and/or to submit your request for review.

Trash/Recycling Update:

HBS Trash pickup times do not occur at the same time each pickup day and operate 7:00 AM – 7:00 PM. Because of this, if residents contact the HOA office, we may not immediately know if a pickup is delayed earlier in the afternoon. The best way to stay informed is to sign up for notifications from HBS Trash for your address here: <https://forms.gle/Mqgnw2VPY6SX3f7E6>. To ensure these notifications do not go to your junk folder, please add postmaster@hbstrash.com to your contacts. Pickups may be delayed due to hazardous materials in containers, such as motor oil, which require the truck to halt for safe cleanup, extra pickups, including this year's heavy leaf volume, which causes trucks to fill faster and requires additional trucks, or weather conditions. The contact for HBS Trash can be by email at customerservice@hbstrash.com or by phone at 720-547-8600 (Monday-Friday, 8:00AM – 5:00 PM)..

Invite Native Bees Into Your Garden This Season

Looking to welcome more native bees into your garden this year? You're in luck! Colorado is home to more than 1,000 species of native bees (yes, really!), and the familiar honey bee isn't one of them. These native pollinators are gentle, fascinating, and incredibly important to our ecosystems. With a few thoughtful plant choices and simple garden practices, you can turn your yard, or even your patio, into a haven for them.

Meet Colorado's Native Bees: Unlike honey bees, most native bees are solitary, meaning they don't live in hives or defend a queen. They tend to keep to themselves and are focused almost entirely on collecting nectar and pollen. Because of this lifestyle, most native bees are not inclined to sting, and many don't have enough venom to cause more than mild discomfort, even if they try. Some anecdotal observations suggest that bumblebees may be capable of recognizing individual faces, contributing to their reputation as especially tolerant and approachable pollinators. They're truly some of the most peaceful garden visitors you can invite in.

Plant for the Entire Growing Season: One of the most important ways to support native bees is to provide flowering plants from early spring through fall. Different species emerge at different times, so a continuous bloom ensures that food is always available. A simple way to identify gaps in your landscape is to take a seasonal garden walk and observe what is flowering and which plants are attracting bees. If little is blooming after August, focus on adding late-season plants. If few flowers are present before June, prioritize early-season bloomers. Below are plant suggestions broken down by season that perform well in Colorado landscapes.

Spring Bloomers: These plants are critical for bees emerging in spring when food sources are limited: Blue Flax, Pasque Flower, Chokecherry, Nodding Onion (a fun favorite, after flowering, the stem bends down to reseed itself), Serviceberry, Flowering fruit trees, Penstemon, Purple Geranium.

Summer Bloomers: These plants help sustain bees through the peak of summer: Asters, Blanket Flower or Gallardia, Salvias, Showy Milkweed, Yarrow, Squash, Prairie Coneflower.

Fall Bloomers: Late-season flowers are essential for bees preparing for winter: Goldenrod, Sunflowers (choose varieties that produce pollen), Coreopsis or Tickseed, Hyssop, Asters, Sedum.

Planting Tips for Success: Native bees are more likely to visit plants that are easy to spot and access. Aim to:

- Plant in full sun whenever possible
- Group plants in larger swaths rather than single, scattered specimens
- Choose a variety of flower shapes and colors

If space is limited, don't worry, you can still make a big impact with containers.

Create a "Bee Café" Container: A bee café is a fun and educational way to attract pollinators, especially for patios, balconies, or small yards. It's also a great activity to do with kids. Here's how to make one:

1. Visit a local nursery and observe which plants already have bees on them. Let kids help spot the busiest plants.
2. Plant your chosen bee-friendly flowers together in a large container.
3. Add a shallow dish of water (change it often to keep it fresh).
4. Finish it off with a cute, homemade "Bee Café" sign to celebrate your pollinator-friendly space.
